

NEWS RELEASE: FOR IMMEDIATE DISTRIBUTION

VISIPHOR CTO SPEAKS AT NATIONAL CRIMINAL JUSTICE FORUM

VANCOUVER, CANADA, September 6, 2006 – Visiphor Corporation (“Visiphor” or the “Company”) (OTCBB: VISRF; TSX-V: VIS; DE: IGYA) is pleased to report that Visiphor’s Chief Technology Officer, Mr. David Clement, spoke recently at the prestigious National Criminal Justice and Public Safety Forum. This national event, titled Gathering Threats to America’s Safety, was sponsored by the IJIS Institute, National Criminal Justice Association and Bureau of Justice Assistance and was held in Baltimore, MD.

Mr. Clement’s presentation topic was New Horizons in Information Sharing, including virtual data warehousing, Social Software, Web Logs, Wikis, Folksonomies and Semantic Wikis and presented a case for utilizing these technologies. Discussing the Semantic Web and Web 2.0, Mr. Clement commented about the coming waves of new information technology for justice applications. “The new power of the web is based upon collaborative applications” said Mr. Clement. “Static web content will be replaced with dynamic information, rapidly built with through the combined efforts of a community of interest”. Mr. Clement also demonstrated an innovative Office application enabled with web services for flexible information sharing.

Mr. Clement is the chief architect and designer of Visiphor’s flagship web services based information sharing platform, the Briyante Integration Environment (BIE). As an early adopter of the GJXDM data reference model, Visiphor has been deploying GJXDM-based information sharing network projects within law enforcement and government sectors since 2002.

About Visiphor

Visiphor software products and services deliver practical, rapidly deployable solutions that integrate business processes and databases. The Company’s solutions focus on disparate process and data management problems that exist in government, law enforcement, security, health care and financial services. Using industry standard Web Services and Service Oriented Architecture (“SOA”), Visiphor delivers a secure and economical approach to true, real-time application interoperability.

The Company’s flagship product, referred to as the Briyante Integration Environment (“BIE”), has a production-proven ability to reduce the time, complexity, and risk associated with defining, implementing, and supporting integrated access to physically and technologically disparate computers and datasets. The broad ranging applicability of BIE into a variety of areas (e.g. health care, financial services, government services, telecommunications, etc.) has been clearly demonstrated by highly successful deployments in the United States and Canada. Visiphor systems are utilized in Canada, the United Kingdom, United States, Mexico and the Far East. The Company is a Microsoft Gold Certified Partner.
